

GNS as intermediary between customers and quality suppliers throughout the world.

GNS Nederland puts their customers first, and this is expressed in numerous ways. Our product range, for instance, is not limited to one or just a few product groups, but includes a whole range of fittings, valves, flanges, tubes, sheets, flat steel and profiles with guaranteed quality.

Particular in the field of special qualities, dimensions or tailor made goods GNS Nederland is able to take care of your material needs. Your order will be carried out exactly according to your specifications including for example certificates and additional tests.

Quality and reliability

The focus is on you, our customer, with your specific demands of wishes, which we try to meet in every possible way, of course at the right moment and place. Reliable and without compromising on (quality) requirements; doing what is agreed.

Advise

Production techniques are becoming increasingly complex, materials are more and more high-quality and applications increasingly critical. In many cases specialist knowledge of metals is indispensable. We are able to offer you this.

In order to advise you in the best possible way, GNS Nederland has specialists who can advise you on a large domain. They have brought together all knowledge that GNS has gathered in the course of the years in the field of material and processing properties.

Quality and environment

GNS Nederland disposes of an extensive quality assurance system with clear procedures to guarantee that we fulfill the requirements of our customers. Thus, for example not only incoming materials are quality-approved with state-of-the-art measuring equipment but during the whole process everything is focused on prevention of errors and discharging the environment. Not only our customers but also the environment should be satisfied with us!
